Competition Format and Rules

Formato e regras da competição / Format et règles de la compétition

Olympic competition format

The Rio 2016 Olympic Games football competition consists of men's and women's tournaments, with the format differing slightly for each.

Men's tournament format

The 16 teams that contest the men's tournament are divided into four groups of four teams for the first round. The International Football Federation (FIFA) will oversee this process by a combination of seeding and a public draw, whilst taking sports and geographic factors into consideration.

Each team plays every other team in their group once, with three points awarded for a win, one for a draw and zero for a defeat. The two last matches in each group take place simultaneously.

After all group games are played the two teams ranked first and second in each pool progress to the quarterfinals. The remaining eight teams are eliminated.

The second round consists of the quarterfinals, semifinals, and finals (gold/silver medal and bronze medal matches), and is played in a straight knockout system. The winners of the quarterfinals proceed to the semifinals and the losers are eliminated. The two semifinal winners play in the gold medal match and the losers contest the bronze medal match.

Women's tournament format

There are 12 teams in the women's tournament and they are divided into three groups of four for the first round of the competition. FIFA will divide the teams by a combination of seeding and a public draw, whilst taking sports and geographic factors into consideration.

Each team plays every other team in their group once, with three points awarded for a win, one for a draw and zero for a defeat. The last two matches in each group take place simultaneously.

After all group games are played the two teams ranked first and second in each group and the two best third-ranked teams progress to the quarterfinals, while the remaining four teams are eliminated.

The second round consists of the quarterfinals, semifinals, and finals (gold/silver medal and bronze medal matches), and is played in a straight knockout system. The quarterfinal winners proceed to the semifinals and the losers are eliminated. The semifinal winners contest the gold medal match and the losers play in the bronze medal match.

Differences between the FIFA World Cup™ and the men's tournament at the Olympic Games

The number of participating teams at the FIFA World Cup™ is 32 and they are divided into eight groups of four teams for the first round. Prior to the draw for the first round, FIFA announces the eight teams that will be seeded, and therefore cannot be drawn in the same first-round group.

There is no age limitation for the teams participating in FIFA World Cup™.

Differences between the FIFA Women's World Cup and the women's tournament at the Olympic Games

The FIFA Women's World Cup is contested by 24 teams, who are divided into six groups of four for the first round. Prior to the draw for the first round, FIFA announces the four teams that will be seeded, and therefore cannot be drawn in the same first-round group.

In the Olympic Games, teams are allowed to use a fourth substitute if a match goes to extra time.

Changes since the London 2012 Olympic Games

Teams will be allowed to use a fourth substitute if a match goes to extra time at the Rio 2016 Olympic Games.

Sport rules and procedures

All matches will be played in accordance with the Laws of the Game as laid down by the International Football Association Board (IFAB) and published by FIFA. The FIFA Disciplinary Code, the Doping Control Regulations for FIFA Competitions and other FIFA regulations, as well as the International Olympic Committee (IOC) anti-doping rules, apply to the Olympic Games football tournaments.

Classification and tiebreak rules:

Qualification for the second round is determined by the teams' ranking in the first round as follows:

- (a) Greatest number of points obtained in group matches.
- (b) Goal difference based on goals scored and conceded in group matches.
- (c) Greatest number of goals scored in group matches.

If two or more teams are equal on the basis of the above three criteria, their ranking in the group will be determined as follows:

- (d) Greatest number of points obtained in group matches between the teams concerned.
- (e) Goal difference based on goals scored and conceded in group matches between the teams concerned.
- (f) Greatest number of goals scored in group matches between the teams concerned.
- (g) Drawing of lots by the FIFA Organising Committee for the Olympic Football Tournaments.

The teams who are eliminated in the first round (eight men's teams ranked 9th-16th and four women's teams ranked 9th-12th) are ranked according to the following criteria:

- (a) Greatest number of points obtained in all group matches.
- (b) Goal difference in all group matches.
- (c) Greatest number of goals scored in all group matches.

If two or more teams are equal on the basis of the above three criteria, their ranking shall be determined as follows:

- (d) Greatest number of points obtained in all group matches between the teams concerned.
- (e) Goal difference resulting from all group matches between the teams concerned.
- (f) Greatest number of goals scored in all group matches between the teams concerned.
- (g) Drawing of lots by the FIFA Organising Committee for the Olympic Football Tournaments.

The four losing quarterfinalists are ranked 5th-8th according to the following criteria:

- (a) Number of points obtained in group matches and quarterfinal (one point for match finished in penalty shoot-out).
- (b) Goal difference based on goals scored and conceded in group matches and quarterfinal (excluding goals in a shoot-out).
- (c) Number of goals scored in group matches and quarterfinal (excluding goals in a shoot-out).
- (d) Drawing of lots by the FIFA Organising Committee for the Olympic Football Tournaments.

Game description

Each football match is played between two teams containing 11 players each, with the objective to score more goals than the opponent. All actions are subject to the Competition Regulations and the Laws of the Game.

No more than 11 players (10 outfield players and one goalkeeper) may be present on the pitch at any given time for each team. The remaining players are substitutes and remain on the substitutes' bench. Up to three substitutions per team are allowed in each match – at the Rio 2016 Olympic Games teams will be allowed to use a fourth substitute if a match goes to extra time.

The playing field shall be a flat, rectangular pitch of natural or artificial grass. The pitch shall measure minimum 100m/maximum 110 metres in length by minimum 64/maximum 75 metres in width, measured from the inside edge of the boundary line (ref. Laws of the Game).

At the Rio 2016 Olympic Games men's competition, all players must be born on or after 1 January 1993, however, teams may enter up to three players (men's competition only) who do not meet this age limit on their official list of players. There are no age restrictions in the women's competition.

Playing time is made up of two periods of 45 minutes with a half-time break of 15 minutes. A first round (group stage) match may end in a draw at the end of the regular time. In the second round (quarterfinals, semi-finals, bronze medal or gold medal matches), if the game is drawn after 90 minutes, then extra time is played (two periods of 15 minutes). In the extra time, each team is allowed to use a fourth substitute. If the game is drawn after extra time, the winner is decided by kicks from the penalty mark.

Penalties/disqualification rules

Every player (including substitutes) is liable to undergo a doping test. Any player or team that refuses to undergo a doping test, falsifies the results, or is found guilty of taking a banned substance will be excluded from the competition and referred to the FIFA Disciplinary Committee. Any official who encourages or incites a player to commit any of the aforementioned infringements will also be excluded from the competition and referred to the FIFA Disciplinary Committee.

Any player who is not able to prove his/her identity before the start of the final competition will be disqualified.

If a team refuses to play a match in the competition it will be disqualified from further participation.

Any team that fields an ineligible player will forfeit the match; the win and relevant three points will automatically be awarded to the opponent, as well as a score of at least 3-0.

Protests/appeals

Protests should be submitted in writing to the FIFA Match Commissioner or General Coordinator within two hours of the end of the match. The protest should be followed up immediately and a full written report (including copy of the protest) should be sent to the FIFA headquarters in the host country.

Protests regarding incidents during a match should be taken up by the captain and directed at the referee. No protests may be made against the referee's decision regarding facts connected with play; his decision is final.

Protests regarding eligibility of players should be addressed in writing to the FIFA General Secretariat at least five days before the first match of the final competition.

Associations may not take disputes to a civil court. Any dispute will be settled by negotiation or by the jurisdiction of FIFA, if necessary. Once all stages of appeal have been exhausted, the associations' only recourse will be the Court of Arbitration for Sport in Lausanne, Switzerland.
